

Pass the Pup™

The Musical Game That Asks: Who Let the Dogs Out?™

RULES

For 2 or More Players • Ages 3 & Up

Contents

Pup with pocket to hold 14 Fun Cards, 3 1.5 AG13 Button Cell Batteries (Included)

Object

Don't be caught with the Pup when the music stops.

Set-Up

- Open the Velcro® pocket on the Pup's back, remove the Fun Cards, shuffle them and place them facedown on a nearby surface.
- The pocket also contains the sound module, which comes with batteries already inserted. See Battery Replacement for instructions on putting in new batteries when necessary.
- Sit in a circle with about an arm's length between each player.

Who Let The Dogs Out?

Each time the Pup's belly is pressed, the song Who Let the Dogs Out? plays for a random length of time. You never know when the music will stop!

Play

- The Pup is given to the youngest player, who begins the game by pressing the Pup's belly to start the music.
- The player then quickly passes the Pup to the player on his or her left and so on around the circle.

- The player holding the Pup when the music stops takes the top Fun Card and does whatever the puppy is doing: barking, rolling over, wagging, shaking hands, etc.
- After the player completes the action, he or she keeps the Fun Card and starts the next round.
- When a player draws a Flea Card, everyone in the room tickles that player until he or she laughs. (Alternate play: All players jump like a flea 5 times.)
- The Flea Card is then put on the bottom of the stack, and the player who drew it starts the next round.

Winning

The game ends when only the 2 Flea Cards remain. The player with the least number of Fun Cards wins.

For Added Fun:

The Fun Cards have a description of things that puppies like to do. The facts have nothing to do with the game play, but we thought you might be interested.

Battery Replacement

- Open the Velcro pocket on the Pup's back and remove the battery compartment.
- Remove the screw with a small Phillips screwdriver.
- Open the lid, and replace the 3 1.5 AG13 button cell batteries (as shown).
- Close the lid, and insert the screw.
