Patch Products' new Monorail climbs up 30 degree grades!

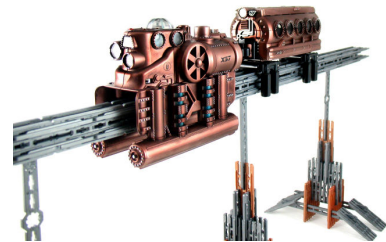

BELOIT, Wis.—All aboard! Patch Products introduces a whole new dynamic to their Überstix[™] line with their Überstix Monorail[™].

This sleek 550-piece Monorail lets kids build over 20 feet of track and climbs up and down 30 degree grades! The innovative Monorail also includes a Quark15[°]_{strange}[™]—the first new Überstix component to be introduced in 3 years! The Quark15 is a curved piece that revolutionizes the capabilities of the entire Überstix system by enabling builders to create an almost infinite number of new architectural details.

In addition to the new Quark piece, builders can also integrate recyclable materials and other build systems that they may already have to the Monorail for extra pizzazz. Create your own layouts with twists, circles, figure-eights and straight tracks, or use the 3 track configurations provided in the instruction sheet. For ages 8 and up; includes Monorail engine and car.

Patch Products is the exclusive U.S. distributor for the Überstix line of interactive construction toys. Überstix is engineered to work independently and integrate with all other major build systems, including Lego[®], K'NEX[®], Zoob[®], Zome[®] and Tinkertoy[®], as well as with recyclable materials. Überstix inspires creativity while teaching kids basic to advanced concepts in geometry, math, engineering and physics. It stands out as the first toy to reward kids for recycling and introduces them to “upcycling”—the art of transforming recyclables into something of greater value!
